The success of the Next Business Leader competition in 2022 stands as a testament to this partnership. The Grameenphone Next Business Leader MT0 program is now being hailed as an exceptional opportunity for graduates to accelerate their careers and emerge as future leaders, supported by a legacy of success. The roadshow was also made possible with the active participation of NSU Fin Club.

The enthusiastic response to the Next Business Leader competition in 2022 and the substantial recruitment of NSU students reaffirm the strength and value of this enduring partnership. In his closing remarks, Professor Khasro urged NSU students to seize this valuable opportunity with GP and excel in their future careers.
