“NSU Law Fest 2019”was held today, 1 April at North South University

North South University Law & Mooting Society, a student organization under North South University has organized the second installment of their signature event titled “Law Fest Season II”. This three days long event will continue from 1 April to 3 April consisting nine different segments in it.

Honorable Mayor of Dhaka North City Corporation, Md. Atiqul Islam has graced the event as the Chief Guest of the Inauguration ceremony. The session was chaired by Vice-Chancellor, NSU, Professor Atiqul Islam and Pro Vice-Chancellor (Designate) Prof. Dr. G.U. Ahsan has graced the event as the guest of honor.

In the speech of Mayor of Dhaka North City Corporation, Md. Atiqul Islam said, the NSU students will have to promise me that we will all make this city safe and affordable. At this time, he mentioned that the main reason for the accident of our city is the lack of awareness and non-observance of the law. That’s why he wants to create a team with students who will work to increase public awareness at different levels. During the event Vice-Chancellor, NSU, Professor Atiqul Islam said, we have many laws in our country but there is no proper application of law. He also pledged to the newly elected Mayor, very soon a Disaster Management Team will be be formed who will work with the mayor to improve the social development and public relations.

After the inauguration ceremony, the event continued with its second segment titled ‘The Law Fair’ in the Plaza Area of the North South University premises. 8 stalls were there from where the visitors collected much information on various different laws and their applications as Family Law, Laws of Torts and others.

Among others, Member, Board of Trustees, NSU, Mr. Mohammed Shajahan and Mr. Benajir Ahmed, Deans of different schools, Administrative heads, Faculty members, other senior officials, students and participants of different universities were also present on this occasion.
